Here and There in the Legislature

The Senate Committee on General Laws has set for a special order at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon Senator Cannon's bill requiring prison-made goods to bear a label indicating their manufacture by convict labor. The bill is opposed by Superintendent Wood, of the State Penitentiary, and other interests.

B. A. Banks, of Norfolk, a member of the House of Delegates at the 1913 session, paid a visit to the General Assembly yesterday. Mr. Banks is one of the several candidates for the Federal collectorship at Norfolk to succeed Collector Hughes, who is a Taff appointee. He was a member of the speakers' bureau of the National Democratic Committee, and made numerous speeches in New York City and throughout New England in behalf of President Wilson's candidacy.

State Highway Commissioner George P. Coleman addressed the Senate Committee on General Laws yesterday in favor of Senator Bowers's bill, which proposes to tax automobiles 50 cents per horsepower in lieu of the State license and local property taxes that are collected under the present laws.
The money so collected is segregated
by the bill as a fund for road improvement.

The Senate Finance Committee will hold a special hearing at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening to consider the Walker tax commission bill. The Finance Committee of the House has been invited to be present and hear the discussion. The Chamber of Commerce and other organizations desiring to express their opinion in the matter will be given an opportunity to be heard.

institution which would hereafter have to be supported, whether it carried any appropriation at this time or not.

Legislation at this time or not.

Legislation looking to a conservation of the State's forestry interests and the protection of the water supply is proposed in a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Messrs. Oliver, Grasty, Willis, Duke, Steck, Spessard, Robertson and Powers. The bill creates the office of State forester, under the direction of a State geological commission, composed of the Governor, president of the University of Virginia, president of the University of Virginia, president of the Virginia Polytechnic institute, superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute and one citizen from the State at large, to be named by the Governor.

The State forester is required to be a technically trained forester, and must have both a practical and theoretical knowledge of forestry. As far as his duties as forester will permit, he is to carry on an educational course on forestry at one of the institutions represented on the geological commission. The care, management and preservation of the forest reserves of the State, to be acquired hereafter and the conservation of water power and rights are put under the care of the State geological commission. The bill carries no appropriation, the salary and expenses of the forester to be borne by the institutions represented on the commission.

Scott and Villa Mcet.

The execution of Benton comes on the heels of a secret interview between Villa and General Scott on the International Bridge here on Saturday. General Scott had already sent Villa a copy of rules governing civilized warrare, and, while the conference on Saturday concerned the establishment of a neutral zone at Torreon, the American general took occasion to re-new his advice that Villa observe the rules of war and treat all prisoners Villa accepted the caution in apparent good part. As evidence of good raith, he pointed out that recently he had guaranteed the safety of foreigners who wished to resume their wented occupations in rebel territory. George C. Carrothers, who represents the State Department in many dealings with the rebels, and who will be present at the battle of Torreon in the interests of foreigners, was promised a report of the alleged courtmartial. News that the government at Washington had ordered an investigation was received by refugees with indifference or with sneers. They were too excited to take a culm view of the situation. Benton comes of an excellent Scotch family. His maternal grandfather, Colonel Hay, is said to have partici-pated as an officer in the famous charge of the Light Brigade at Balak-lava. Two cousins are in the British Army. One, Captain Norman Benton, is with the engineer corps at East Sourne, England; the other, Lieuten-ant Ivan Benton, is an artillery officer,

Two Englishmen Missing.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
El Paso, Tex., February 22.—Two Englishmen, named Lawrence and Curtis, who called on General Villa on Wednesday to interede for William S. Benton, whom Villa had executed on Tuesday at Juarez, have been missing for two days. Flendis of the Englishmen fear they, too, have been put to death, although Colonel Avila at Juarez denied having any knowledge of the Englishmen, or that they had called on Villa in Juarez. Avila allowed friends of the two men to visit all the jails in the city to show that they were not held prisoners. Little is known of the Englishmen here, but Mid-Day Lunch 50c in the Rathskeller

Everard R. Calthrop a personal friend, who has visited Benton in Mexico, said:

"Benton was a very fine specimen of a man. He was the very last man to be in any way unpleasant or provocative. He was very tactful and spoke Spanish perfectly. I would not expect him in any circumstances to pick a quarrel. He was highly respected by the hundreds of Mexicans in his mines on account of his farness in dealing with them. I am sure Vilia shot him out of pure wantoness. It is perfectly absurd that President Wilson should have recognized, who seems to be shooting every decent.

Ruling by Supreme Court on Status of Ambassador to Foreign Powers.

New York, February 29.—The Appeliate Division of the Supreme Court today declared that an American ambassador to a foreign power is above the law of his Statu at home, and on this ground refused to compel James W. Gerard, ambassador to Germany, to return from his post and decide the appeal in a case which came before him when he was justice of the Supreme Court. The parties to the littigation argued that the score of civil procedure declared that their case on appeal "must' be settled by the justice before whom it was tried, and an order to that effect was obtained directed to Ambassador Gerard.

The court decided that it had power so to arrange that the case may be closed in some other way without injuring the littents.

Captain Alexander Jordan.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Bedford City, Va., February 20.—
Captain Alexander Jordan died suddenly here this morning at 3:30 o'clock at the home of his son, Henry V. Jordan, the town sergeant, at the age of eighty-five years. He was a native of Bedford, the son of Jubal Jordan, a member of a large and very prominent family connection. Captain Jordan served with bravery and ability throughout the War of the Confederacy, organizing a company of artillery in the county at the beginning of hostilities, of which he was chosen captain. It is a remarkable coincidence, that of the six companies of artillery enlisting in the war from Bedford, three of them were commanded by brothers—viz., Captain Alexander Jordan, Captain William V. Jordan and Captain Tyler C. Jordan, who was later promoted to the rank of major, and died a few months ago in California, where he resided. Captain Jordan is survived by his two children—Henry V. Jordan, with whom he was living, and a daughter—Mrs. Ella Cauthorn. He was a member of the Catholic Church, from which the funeral service will take place on Sunday.
